A COBRESPONDENT informs the Calcutta Englishman that there is good reason to believe the scheme for the proposed Jubilce Institute will be dropped altogether unless it is more strongly supported. This would be a most unfortunate termination of movement that seemed to promise so much for the good of the empire at large. And reluctant as we are to draw the conclusion. we cannot but recognise that the vaucity of support accorded to the undertaking, after all the talk there has been about Imperial Federation, goes to show that after all there must have been a large preponderance of froth in the latter; that the scattered memhers of the empire are still far from accepting the principle of each for all, and, like the Hon. P. Ryrie, strongly object to see any. standing that the institution is one for cales of Commissions and Charges adopted by standing that the institution is one for made themselves very popular by their uniform vinces of Szechuon and Yüngan was completed, the china station.

It was reasonable on the part of the meeting to decide that the memorial should be a local one, but the grounds of that decision were, we take it, that a local memorial would be preferable to participation in the national memorial, not that the latter was in itself objectionable. The tone of Mr. Ryrie's remarks, moreover, is in strong contrast with that adopted by the Chamber of Commerce, of which he is the Chairman. In July last the Secretary of the London-Chamber-of Commerce addressed the Hongkong Chamber on the subject of commercial museums, and having referred to the advantages resulting from such institutions in the industrial towns of various chow. Ch'ang-p'ing, and the towns hard by continental countries, requested the Hongkong Chamber to take the question of the | horities have also opened a new mint in response consideration. The reply of the Hongkong Chamber was as follows :-

Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce, Hongkong, 5th November, 1886. DEAR Sin, - I am directed by the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to acknowledge the receipt of your circular letter dated the 29th July, treating of the proposal to establish Commercial Museums.
In the opinion of the Committee, the proposal under consideration is one which should claim the support of all classes of the mercantile community. Besides bringing to the attention of consumers the products of each colony in the Empire, the movement in England will, it is to be hoped, also serve to draw the attention of those concerned to the particular classes of goods that are most suitable for the markets abroad (in China and other countries), so that the home manufacturers may be moreable to compete with their The Committee are also glad to observe that, since the receipt of the letter under reply, advices are to ferent ports of China, Philippines, Siam, &c. hand advocating the scheme to found an Institute

The Hon, P. RYRIE, however, so far from thinking the scheme one which must "receive the warmest assistance of the mercantile bodies in every English colony" is strongly of opinion, judging from his remarks at the view of the friendly disposition manifested by NACASARI Mesers. The C & J. Trading Co. Jubilee meeting, that so far as Hongkong is concerned no support of a financial nature which might fittingly have been taken into Chamber. The accounts show that the Chamber has a balance at credit of over $5,000, and it could well afford to assist the proposed Institute with a contribution, and so fulfil its pledge that the scheme "would most demonstratively loyal, His Majesty being also relied on the decision of the Privy Council ness frontier was to be looked for until railway duty it was to put the room tidy, and who had receive the warmest assistance of the mercantile bodies in every English colony," in which term of course Hougkong is in- would be present on the occasion. He passed on to-day to bark comes from the four Districts of Ping-nan, Kneip'ing, Jung Hsien and T'eng Hsien, while Kwangtung bark all comes from Lo-ting Chow. There are further two routes by which cassia is brought to the coast for exportation. By the old, or eastern, route, Kwangsi cassia descends the West River from Hsun chow Fu and Wuchow Fu, and Kwangtung cassia is brought by a branch river to Shao-ch'ing Fu, also on the West River. In either case it finds its way to Canton, whence it is sent to foreign countries. By the new, or Western, route Kwangsi cassia is sent up stream, and, being carried partly by water and partly by land, is conveyed to Yu-lin Chou, Lien-chou Fu and Pakhoi, whence it is exported abroad. In 1878 Transit Passes were brought into use at Pakhoi, but had not at that time been introduced at Canton. Foreigners therefore adopted the Pakhoi route in order to avoid the duties on the West River, while Chi, their door.—Chinese Times, 12th March. ness merchants continued to use the Canton route and thus obtained a small fraction of the profits of the trade. Moreover the general sion on taking office as Chief Secretary for yment of Transit Passes has weakened the position of Chinese merchants, so that the purchasing price could not but fall. It has even come down to eighty or ninety cents per picul, which scarcely pays the cost of gathering the bark. Foreigners do not fear the competition of Chinese merchants, who, they know, have to pay more for the article, and therefore will only offer a low price. The circumstances, indeed, are much the same in the unpresperous in both provinces.

DICTIONARY

*DAILY PRESS" OF FICE WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN Pronunciation. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been A Large Assortment of New Satsums and compelled to coin to express the numerous obother Ware, Bronzes, Tea Services, Screens, &c. jects in machinery, photography, telegraphy. New and Second-hand FURNITURE at and in science generally, which the rapid advance [23] of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso, Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises CEYLON HAND BOOK AND for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best THIS Volume, which forms a valuable Re- principle hitherto attained. The typography pertory of Information regarding Ceylon displays the success of an attempt to make the and a General Handbook thereto, is widely oir- Chinese and English type correspond in the size culated not only in the Island but throughout of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of he British Empire.

It includes a complete list of all the Coffee, attained, and dispensing with those vast margins Coconut, Cinnamon, Tea, Sugar, and Cinchona and vacant spaces which have heretefore characterized Chinese publications. To the illustrate the vest scope of the work munity; a valuable body of Statistics, and much following facts are submitted for consideration:useful General Information. It is indispensable Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 to all intelligent residents, or parties interested Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50:000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli-cations and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-OWNERS, will be RESPONSIBLE for any lished

DEBT contracted by the Officers or the Crews | For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese: In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives. themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly sequainted.
